

Harvest Day

This year and for the first time, Chocalán wished to invite its clients and friends to live the real experience of a grape harvest. This activity took place on April 23rd and 24th. Once the attendees had been received, we provided them with aprons, gloves and caps, and included scissors and buckets, and took them out to the guardhouse so that they could begin the harvest.

Elbow to elbow with the harvesters, they went along filling their buckets under the direction of Eladio Arias, the person in charge of the fields. After having passed through the vineyard in a picturesque vehicle, and after a refreshing tasting, they were witness to the reception of the grapes. The oenologist explained the process of winemaking to them and accompanied them on a tour of the warehouse, and then finished up with a delicious Chilean barbecue, served with our Chocalán wines, without a doubt, it will be an activity that we will do again.
